EXTERIOR METAL VENETIANS | CRISP ARCHITECTURAL LOOK

The most effective form of external shading is achieved through operable and retractable blades. The Type 80 is a fully variable system providing exterior views and natural light whilst blocking all direct sunlight. With up to 85% of solar gain eliminated, cooling costs are greatly reduced (internal temperatures can fall up to 10°C), clear glass can be used in place of expensive tinted glass and there is less need for artificial lighting. The result is a healthier work or living environment.

Blinds by Peter Meyer recommends Warema External Venetian Systems, who are well known for high quality and advanced design and the market leader in this elegant exterior window treatment. We specialise in both domestic and commercial applications and can assist you with advice on all of your External Venetians requirements.
